

INVITATION

Dear Madam, dear Sir,

IFBL, the Luxembourg Institute for Training in Banking and the Luxembourg Association of Professionals in Risk Management (PRiM) have the honour to invite you to the following conference featuring Prof. Philippe Jorion as guest-speaker:

The Adequacy of VaR Calculations in the Fund Industry

on 14th October 2010, from 6 to 7.30 pm

at the Chambre de Commerce, Kirchberg, Luxembourg

The conference will be followed by a cocktail

Prof. Philippe Jorion, is a most eminent figure in the world of risk management. He is well known in Luxembourg for his preparation seminar to the Financial Risk Manager GARP examination. Prof. Jorion is Chancellor's Professor of Finance at the School of Business at the University of California at Irvine. He has taught at UC-Berkeley, Columbia University, Northwestern University, the University of Chicago and the University of British Columbia. He holds an MBA and a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, and a degree in engineering from the Université Libre de Bruxelles. He has authored more than ninety publications directed at academics and practitioners on the topics of risk management and international finance. He has also written a number of books, including "Value at Risk: The New Benchmark for Managing Financial Risk," which is aimed at finance practitioners and has become a bestseller in its field. Dr. Jorion has also written the "Financial Risk Manager Handbook" to support the annual examination administered by the Global Association of Risk Professionals. Prof. Jorion will receive a professorship "honoris causa" at the University of Liège on the day following this conference.

Registration fees: € 100,- payable upon receipt of the invoice.

All members of PRiM and IFBL are offered a free participation to this important event.
